海の日

西瓜割り

A lesser cuckoo has already come in the fence
that smells flowers of deutzia.
And she chirps and
makes a little sounds.
Summer has come.
The girls wet hems
and plant in a rice
field raining of May.

夏は来ぬ

佐々木信綱／小山作之助

When I wander on the beach in the morning
I remember what happened in the past.
There is such the sound of the wind and
state of the clouds.
Also the wandering
waves and the colors of the shells.

浜辺の歌

林古溪／成田為三

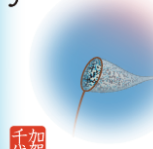

Morning glory
Bucket taken captive
I borrow water
